

PUMP! Underwear

Founded in Montreal in 2010 by Jason Duval, PUMP! was established as a men's designer brand to provide underwear that blends a sporty aesthetic, support, and comfort. Understanding our community's diverse lifestyle makes it possible to envision underwear and swimwear as a seamless extension of it. To be able to accomplish this synchronicity, design and product development become key. This translates into using fresh ideas with a unique brand identity plus a careful selection of textures, colors, and details. The result is a thought-through garment that reflects the distinctive tastes and personalities of our consumers.
